Dear Ms. Hunt:

Re: Unauthorized Practice of Veterinary Medicine

Thank you for contacting the writer after receipt of our registered letter of October 23, 2013.

As we discussed on the telephone, the concern of the College of Veterinarians is to protect the public interest and to ensure that no unauthorized practice of veterinary medicine occurs.

We understand that on occasion you have treated animals in an emergency situation who are brought to you on an emergency basis. Given your remote location at the end of a twenty kilometre logging road on the outside of Ucluelet, it is reasonable to concur that you are administering aid to animals only in emergencies. Given your statements that you are only providing temporary emergency relief to an animal in distress, the College will not be pursuing this matter further. However, should the College learn that these statements are not accurate or that you are providing veterinary services on a non-emergency basis, whether or not for a fee, then the College will take further measures against you to ensure that the unauthorized practice of veterinary medicine does not occur.

We ask that you sign and return the duplicate copy of this letter to confirm your acceptance with this outcome.

Yours truly,

GOURLAY SPENCER WADE LLP
